

FATHER IN THE SKY

ALPHA OMEGA

A modern Oratorio written and composed by

David Gordon

Father in the sky
Won't you tell us who you are?
Won't you say a word to me
That I can understand
You have me in your hand

Father in the sky
Have you forgotten where we are?
The clouds grow darker every day
And we are so afraid!
We never were so brave.

How can we carry on
And still believe in you?
When every hope has vanished
Long ago – in spite of you

How can we carry on?
How can we face you now
When everything we tried so hard to do
Was lost some how.

How can we face you now?
How can we face you now?

Father in the sky
Won't you tell us who you are?
Won't you say a word to me
That I can understand
You have me in your hand

How can we carry on
And still believe in Him?
When every hope has vanished
Long ago – in spite of you

How can we carry on?
How can we face you now
When everything we tried so hard to do
Was lost some how.

How can we face you now?
How can we face you now?
